

PURE TYPESCRIPT · ZERO DEPENDENCIES

Documents that flow, by design.

You describe a document as a tree of components and jasy lays it out and writes the PDF bytes itself, with no headless browser and no Java. Text breaks at real font metrics, images move as a whole across a page break, and the background you see here bleeds past the page margin because a Positioned child is allowed to poke right out to the paper's edge.